

Spring is here at last and nature is celebrating. Bright yellow daffodils 1 and delicate primroses 2 make a lovely splash of colour and pretty pussy-willows 3 decorate the branches. Lesser celandines 4 brighten the pond-side where a Frog 5 is looking for a mate. In the pond, the moorhen 6 feels safe because the dog is on a leash 7. Dogs, of course, should always be kept under control. March winds 8 make the clothes dance on the line and up above the noisy rooks 9 are nesting. The lapwing 10 is still looking for a nesting site in the fields. Hares 11 go 'mad' about now and 'box' each other! It is nice to be able to gather your own shamrock 12.
