

We are really into the summer now and a lot of us like to go picnicking. Never light a fire to boil water, 1 especially near trees! If you must have a hot drink, bring a flask 2 and always take your litter home. The birds also like picnics! A yellow-hammer 3 pecks happily at fat rosehips 4 and a thrush 5 enjoys the berries on a rowan tree. A farmer is harvesting golden wheat and crows 6

gobble up the ripe grains. A lovely painted lady butterfly 7 and a hover fly 8 like the sweet-scented honeysuckle 9. A stoat 10 hunts for little fieldmice, homeless now, after the farmer's great machine has wrecked their nests.
