

A "CORK" RINK.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH BUILDER.

SIR,—Being aware of the great success of the "Dublin Skating Rink," I, as proprietor of the ponds known as "French's Bogs," which have been frequented upon occasions of frost by thousands of Cork citizens, and wishing to inaugurate a similar source of amusement to that at present so much in vogue in the capital, you, as chief authority in such matters requiring scientific advice as regards construction, materials to be employed, outlay, &c., may probably consider it worth your while to afford me such information as will enable me to undertake a work which I am sure will contribute so much towards the recreation of the citizens of Cork and surrounding districts.—Yours,

EDWARD FRENCH

Ardmanning, Cork, Jan. 11, 1876.

[Can any of our readers supply the information asked for?—ED. I. B.]

[Taken from Irish Builder, Vol. XVIII, 1876, p.31]