

DETAILS, WEST FRONT,
SKIBBEREEN CONVENT CHAPEL.

OUR illustration with this number is a portion of the detail elevation of the west front of the new chapel now building at the Convent of Sisters of Mercy, Skibbereen, from designs by Messrs. Pugin and Ashlin. The west window presents some novelty in design, of which we may particularize the cusping. Underneath this window is a row of lancets, the heads only being shown in sketch.

We purpose in a future number to give a general view of this chapel. Mr. Murphy, of Bantry, is the contractor for the works.

[Taken from Irish Builder, Vol. IX, 1867, p.208]